

OFFICIAL NEWSLETTER

Welcome to the first edition of the Arike Day Care Nurses newsletter! We are immensely grateful to our supportive welwishers, donors, sponsors, and committed volunteers. Thanks to your collective efforts, we have already cared for 1285 people by July. Within these pages, we proudly share some heartwarming stories that highlight the true impact of our work, touching lives and making a positive difference in our community.

Patient x is a 69-year-old woman diagnosed with diabetes 20 years ago. Both of her legs fingers are affected by a diabetic ulcer and had to be amputated; she has been confined to a wheelchair since then. She is currently staying with her son, and due to her condition, her son cannot go for a regular job as he wants to give full-time care to his mother. Her daughters are married and staying with their family, and their hands are full with their own engagements and day-to-day activities. To make matters worse, Mrs. X is constantly worried about her son and his future. The fact that he is not getting married yet and is not able to get a proper job increases her blood pressure.

Mrs. X is also on the verge of losing their home as they have a loan whose payment is due, and the bank has already sent a notice to them asking them to evacuate the place. This will render them homeless without a roof over their heads. The Arike team started daily nursing care for dressing and 'doctors care' for her, improving her medical condition. As per our doctors' expert opinion, she requires daily medical dressing to prevent her condition from aggravating, which can even lead to the amputation of the whole leg. The Arike team also made her understand, through constant counselling sessions, that the stress and anxiety would affect the healing process and her overall health.

KOODE

Koode is our volunteer initiative committed to bringing solace to palliative care patients during their toughest moments. A single word or warm smile holds immeasurable power to transform lives. You don't need to be extraordinary, affluent, gifted, or charming. Our organisation exists because of individuals like you who care. Your generous support enables us to create a vibrant community, making it a truly wonderful place to live.

Embrace the opportunity to join us and unleash your true self; together, we can make a difference.

ACTIVITIES

Our Social Work team actively supported the conduct of awareness classes as part of the Koode activities. These sessions were conducted at Nagarjuna Pearl Bay and KMM College, Thrikkakkara, by Dr. Athul Joseph Manuel, Director of Arike Palliative Home Care.

Arike extended its benevolent reach by arranging notebooks for children of a beneficiary, offering a food kit to a Lakshadweep Native in Kochi, and securing sponsorship from Bhavan's Elamakkara, through which Key Value generously donated 1 lakh rupees to one beneficiary for his medico-economic needs, while also providing a wheelchair to another beneficiary, enhancing his mobility and overall quality of life, and a handrail to yet another beneficiary.

The student social workers from Jaibharath College, Perumbavoor, and Mar Gregorios College, Parumala successfully completed their field training at Arike Palliative Home Care.

Arike has voluntarily come forward to support UDBODH- Free Dementia Day Care Centre Project @Cochin for people with Dementia.

SUPPORT OUR CAUSE

Arike Daycare Nurses has provided home-based palliative care for three years, assisting 1,285 patients and families. Despite our dedication, we are struggling with financial constraints to cater to the growing demand for care. Your support is crucial in extending our reach and ensuring dignified lives for those in need. Please consider contributing to ARIKE!
