These kits, filled with essential items, are intended to provide temporary relief during challenging times. We understand that the cost of healthcare can be overwhelming, and we hope that this small gesture will help ease some of that burden.

Sensitization Programmes

On August 7th, 10th, and 19th, 2024, the Arike team organized sensitization programmes focused on palliative care and volunteering at multiple locations across Kochi. These sessions offered essential insights into palliative care, equipping community members with the knowledge and skills needed to better support those in need.

Arike Review Meeting

On August 10th, Arike family gathered for Koode review meeting at Arike conference hall. At this gathering, volunteers had the chance to reflect on their experiences, share insights, and discuss strategies to enhance their support for individuals requiring palliative care in the community. The meeting facilitated the exchange of ideas among volunteers, allowing them to address challenges and collaborate on initiatives to improve the care provided to patients and their families.

Volunteers' Course in Palliative Care

On 17 th, Arike Palliative Care welcomed the seventh batch of participants to its Volunteers' Course in Palliative Care (VCPC). This ongoing programme aims to provide community members with the essential skills and knowledge necessary to support individuals in need of palliative care. Throughout the course, participants received comprehensive training, which included theoretical sessions as well as practical experiences such as home visits.

Beyond the Bedside: The Multifaceted Contributions of Arike Volunteers

At Arike, volunteering is not limited to providing direct care to patients; it extends far beyond, encompassing a wide range of vital roles that support the entire palliative care system. Volunteers from various walks of life bring their unique skills and expertise to contribute in diverse areas, ensuring that the organization operates smoothly and effectively. Whether it's professionals in law, finance, management, IT, or those with organizational skills, these volunteers play crucial roles that allow healthcare providers to focus on patient care. They assist with logistics, provide legal and financial guidance, manage communications, and support various other functions that are essential to the success of palliative care services. Their contributions help create a strong foundation for Arike's mission, ensuring that all aspects of care—from coordination to compliance—are handled efficiently.
